Who we are

Larasian are a group of leading-edge electronic product design and manufacturing companies with locations in the UK, Hong Kong and the USA. The group specialises in aerospace, defence, gas detection, medical applications and IoT-based environmental monitoring. See www.larasian.com

What you'll get out of it

Successful applicants will be paid a competitive salary for a long term career.

You will also be offered subsidised accommodation at the newly renovated Regal Cinema building in the centre of Fordingbridge. The once defunct art deco cinema, which closed in 1962, was purchased by the Larasian group (with you in mind) at the beginning of 2016 and has been renovated to provide a 30 seat cinema and seven new studio apartments, opening June 2017. During the two-year training period, the opportunity to visit our engineering departments in Hong Kong and the USA may be available.

What you'll be doing

As a graduate engineer within the Larasian group, you will get the opportunity to apply and sharpen your knowledge, working closely on a variety of innovative engineering projects alongside our experienced team. This unique opportunity will give you first-hand experience of the complete design process, from product specification all the way through to market-ready design.

What you'll need

We're looking for high-calibre graduates with a degree in any of the following disciplines: Electronic Engineering, Mechanical Engineering, or Computer Sciences. You'll need to apply quickly as there are only four places available for 2017.

How to Apply (Four positions available)

Simply complete the following form and send a scan or photograph of it to personnel@larasian.com or return it to the address below. Alternatively, visit www.larasian.com/graduate and complete the form online.

We look forward to hearing from you.
